Crystal Kids' mission has expanded far beyond promoting health and physical fitness for inner city youth. We foster youth self-esteem and help ensure their mental and emotional wellbeing. Through Crystal Kids, youth and their families can access invaluable resources and support networks to help maintain dignity and balance in their lives. We also reach out to those who suffer from isolation, including seniors and recent immigrant families, providing them with healthy communication and positive social interaction. Overall, we're a safe, supporting and friendly environment for anyone who needs us. But we can't do this good work alone! We need your help. All programs are free of charge to families, and warrant your support!
